

Developmental Disabilities Services State System of Care Plan General Input Forums

We want to hear from you!

The Developmental Disabilities Services Division is updating the System of Care Plan for people with developmental disabilities and their families. This plan outlines what services will be available to individuals, who is eligible, and how funding can be used. It also identifies new special initiatives that will enhance the overall system of support.

We have scheduled forums to gather input on the entire plan. The Division welcomes all comments about the plan.

Here are some questions to help you get ready for the forums:

What is working well within the DDS system to support individuals and their families?

What is not working well or should be changed?

How could services be better?

What is most important when getting services?

What helps to get the best possible services?

What would you like to see changed or improved over the next three years?

Any other input to share?

We have set up our sessions with a regional focus but anyone can join any session. The most important thing is for you to come when you can! We will be talking about the same things as each session. You don't have to come more than once. But, you can join as many times as you want if you want to hear from others around the State.
